DESIGN YOUR OWN GARMENT PANELS FOR 2026

WHAT'S NEW

Two New Hoodies, a ¼ Zip Fleece & the ideal 42L backpack

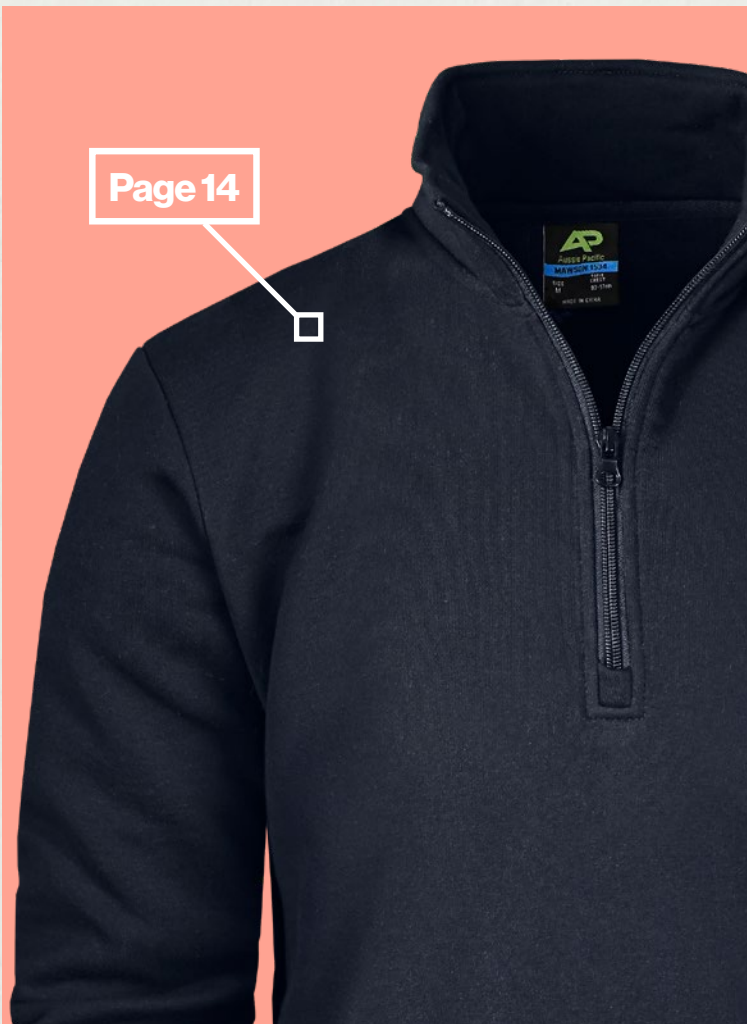

Our new fabrics are made from eco friendly material.

AP ECO combines a rich Cotton blend with Recycled Polyester, creating a more sustainable fabric choice without compromising on everyday performance. By incorporating recycled materials, this fabric helps reduce environmental impact while maintaining the softness, strength and reliability needed for modern apparel.

HOW TO MEASURE

A - BUST / CHEST

Place a measuring tape around the fullest part of the bust/chest keeping the tape measure horizontal. Be sure the tape measure is flat against the body straight across the back and not too tight.

B - WAIST

Place a measuring tape around the narrowest part of the waistline keeping the tape measure horizontal. Be sure the tape measure is flat against the body straight across the back and not too tight.

FITTING TIPS

BODY MEASUREMENTS SELECTING YOUR SIZE

When selecting your size from the sizing chart, you will need to know your accurate body measurements then select the size from the Body measurements chart below.

GARMENT FINISHED MEASUREMENTS SELECTING YOUR GARMENT

Use the ‘Garment finished measurement chart’ provided for each style (½ CHEST / ½ WAIST) to choose the appropriate size garment (refer to style page). These charts indicate the how much “ease” (extra room) a finished garment has. If you are on the borderline between two sizes, order the smaller size for a tighter fit or the larger size for a looser fit. If your measurements for bust and waist correspond to two different

DESIGN YOUR OWN CUSTOMISE GARMENT

CUT & SUB

Introducing our Cut & Sub Range - Combines traditional solid piece-dyed fabrics cut-and-sew construction with the flexibility of sublimation printing, creating a modern approach to custom apparel. The range offers three stock fabric options for the main garment, paired with four sublimation-ready fabrics for panels and design elements, allowing a balance of comfort, durability and creative design.

Solid piece-dyed fabrics form the main body of the garment, providing a consistent colour base and a premium feel, while sublimated panels allow vibrant graphics, gradients and logos to be permanently dyed into the fabric. This hybrid method delivers the best of both worlds — the reliable quality of solid fabrics with the unlimited design possibilities of sublimation.

Widely used in sportswear, teamwear and promotional apparel, this approach produces garments that are durable, comfortable and visually striking, making it an ideal solution for modern customised clothing.
